Rotary Club

March 11, 2010
Vol. 43 No. 29

Waunakee Rotary committees updated the club about their projects at club assembly March 4.

John Cullen of the meetings committee said programs have been scheduled through April 29. Next week, Waunakee school district administrator Randy Guttenberg will give a presentation about the April 6 referendum.

Bill Tygum said the fellowship committee recently hosted two good events with the Super Raffle and Whitetails fund-raisers. That committee is planning an outing on the Betty Lou Cruises once the ice melts, Bill said.

Harriet Statz said the youth exchange committee is still seeking a host home for Bird for the remainder of his stay. He is staying at Ellen Schaaf's home in between host families.

Pat Durden said the membership committee is happy to invite prospective members to a club meeting. If you know of a good candidate for membership, feel free to tell Pat.

Brent Ziegler said the community services committee will be in need of a new chair once he becomes president.

Linda Olson said a group of Rotarians are leaving Wednesday for Guatemala. There is also was book pickup at Prairie Elementary March 5.

Phil Willems from the fund raising committee said two members are leaving and he is looking at recruiting four new members to that committee. That committee has little going on except the upcoming WaunaFest event.

Plans are to take the club's proceeds from that event from $1,000 to $10,000, Phil said.

Also at Monday's meeting, the club's doctors – Dr. Jim Starling, Dr. David May and Dr. Gordy Meicher, answered questions about health care reform. Thanks for your insight into this complicated initiative.

Just for laughs

A wife and husband both talked in their sleep. She loved auctions; his hobby was golf.

One night, during a deep sleep, the man yelled, "Fore!"

His wife, also in a deep sleep and not missing a beat, yelled back, "Four fifty!"
